ONE MAY DIE; OTHER WOUNDED

Two Negro Men Have Bloody Encounter in an Alley.

The police of the Second and Third Districts were kept busy over a serious cut and throat affair, which occurred on First Street about 11 o'clock last night, in which a negro man named George Curtis alias Blue Steel, was badly chopped up by another negro named Frank Little, and the latter was shot by Curtis. The trouble arose over a woman named Minnie Hatcher, and strated at First and Broad Streets with an argument. The two men and the woman went out First Street on the west side until they reached the alley in the rear of St. Mark's Church, when a scuffle ensued between the two men. In about a half a minute, while the men were scuffling, a pistol was fired three times, presumably by Curtis. He had Little on the ground in a deadly embrace then.

A CROWD GATHERED. A crowd had gathered, but at the first shot it scattered to the four winds. Then Curtis wrenched himself free and started to run, but it was seen that he was deeply cut across the left side of the face. He ran on out First Street, and Little disappeared. Blood flowed from the cut in Curtis' face in gushes, and First Street from the mouth of the alley to Duval Street and then to St. James was literally sprinkled with gore.

Officer Gorman went at once to the place and found that Curtis was in bad shape. The ambulance lost no time in getting to the drug-store, and the man was taken to the almshouse, where he was given the best of treatment. The cut was a dangerous one, but not necessarily fatal.

A Negro man named Anthony, who was an eye witness of the affair, but who ran away as soon as the shooting started, said to a Times reporter last night: "I heard the two men fighting. Little says, 'you started me off last Sunday night, and now you are doing it again,' and then the fight started up."

Later Little went to the Third Street and gave himself up. He was badly shot in the chin, and was carried to the City Hospital for treatment.

Russian Girl Cared For. A young woman, named Esther Garrowsky, who says she is from Russia, and cannot speak English, was found on Main Street yesterday morning evidently lost. To a Russian who could talk with her she said that she was from Cancharan, in Russia, and that she was seeking her mother, Edes Garrowsky, and her brother Libe, who were, she thought, in St. Louis. She said that she had sailed from Bremen about seventeen days ago, and landed at Baltimore, and had come down the bay from Baltimore to West Point.

Jewish Ladies' Aid Society was communicated with, and through its agency the unfortunate girl was placed with a Russian family at No. 1703 East Main Street to be cared for.

IN JAIL AT SUFFOLK.

Mrs. Williams Showed Signs of Attacking the Girl. Ollie Williams, in charge of Police Chiefs Brinley, of Suffolk, and Ragland, of Petersburg, and Fannie Smith, with her father arrived here to-night about 10:30. There were several hundred men and women at the station. Williams was surrounded by an armed guard and escorted to a carriage and hurried away to jail.

The crowd hung about the girl to catch a glimpse. She was ushered into the station agent's private office, where the lights were turned off to keep the mob from peering in. Later she was removed in a carriage, and started for home. Fannie says she loved Williams and was enticed away under the promise that he would marry her when his wife got a divorce, and that the elopement was the only way by which a divorce could be gotten.

Williams told police officers he would marry the girl if a divorce could be had. Mrs. Williams had come here from Portsmouth, and her actions indicated an intention to attack Fannie Smith.

Mrs. Williams, almost frantic, was finally gotten to a hotel.

THE ARREST.

The Young Lady Unmistakably Devoted to the Gypsy. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) EMPORIA, Va., June 14.—Early this morning the Gypsy Oliver Williams, and Fannie Smith were arrested by Town Sergeant Sam Robinson, about one mile south of Emporia. Williams was unarmed when arrested, and was at once committed to jail. The girl was taken to a boarding-house in town to await the coming of her father, who was telegraphed to immediately after the arrest.

Sergeant Robinson had been notified by a telegram to look out for the couple, who were supposed to be making their way to North Carolina.

When arrested, they were about nine miles from the State line. Miss Fannie seems little inclined to go home and expressed in unmistakable terms her devotion to Ollie Williams.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—Baggage-master T. S. Hatch, of Pikeville, Tenn., who was injured last Thursday in the wreck on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railroad, died to-day, increasing the number of deaths from the accident to five.

VIRGINIA ITEMS IN DEFICIENCY BILL

Expenses for Contest in Ninth District Provided For.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—The general deficiency bill was reported to the House to-day by the Committee on Appropriations, and the following items contained in the bill are of interest to Virginia:

Southern Branch, National Home for Disabled Volunteers, at Hampton, for subsistence and for the fiscal year 1902, $10,000.

To pay to the widow of Peter J. Otey, late a representative in Congress from the State of Virginia $10,000, this being the amount due Major Otey for salary.

The following allowances to those having contests before the Elections Committee: N. F. Rhea, $2,000; James A. Walker, $2,000.

It will be observed that there is no provision for expenses in the Wilson-Lassiter case. This is because this case has not been reported to the House. The committee having it in charge has reached an agreement, but no report has been made.

PERSONAL. Hugh Gordon Miller, of Norfolk, is registered at the New Willard.

There has been some talk of Mr. Miller's running for Congress in the Second District against whoever shall receive the nomination of the Democratic party, but he was most emphatic to-day in announcing that he had no intention of entering the congressional race.

Mr. Miller admitted that the Republican party was not very sanguine of electing a Congressman from the Second, but said they felt they had a fighting chance. Mr. Floyd P. Smith, of Northumberland county, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee of the First District, has been in the city for the past day or so attending the commencement of the Roman Catholic Convention of the United States.

Among the guests from a distance were J. R. Fleet and daughters, Misses Ruby and Dinna, Misses Spindle, of Culpeper; Miss Newbill, of Norfolk; Miss Grace Woods, of Baltimore; Mrs. Lula R. Gaines and daughter, of Irvington.

MILITARY NOTES.

Resignation of Lieutenant Stone—Talk of Excursion. The resignation of Lieutenant James H. Stone, of Company F, Seventieth Regiment, has caused some little interest in this company. An election will be held in the near future to fill the vacancy. Lieutenant Stone has been in military service for some time and has the respect and esteem of the men of his company.

Members of Company C are quite active over the plans for their moonlight to Dutch Gap. The excursion is being planned for the benefit of this company, and each member is selling tickets at a rate which justifies in saying that a large crowd will go down the river. There will be dancing and music to make the evening one of supreme enjoyment.

Captain Bossieux, with several officers of the Seventieth, is busily engaged in working out plans for the annual excursion or vacation of the entire regiment. It is likely the trip will be taken in August. The mountain seems most likely the spot to be chosen.

FLEET--TOMPRINS. Virginians in Two Widely Separated States Come Home to Wed. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) MONTAGUES, Va., June 14.—A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, interesting in the fact that the bride and groom came from Alabama and Missouri, respectively, to be married in their native State. The contracting parties were Miss Lela Tomprins and Mr. William G. Newbill.

The bridesmaids, Miss Net Newbill and Miss Brooke Street, Miss Grace Woods and Miss Ruby Mary Fleet, came from the vestry room and met at the door the bride, who entered leaning on the arm of her uncle, Mr. William G. Newbill, and preceded by her flower girl, Miss Lillie Gaines, and her maid of honor, Miss Helen Smith. The groom entered from the vestry room, attended by his best man, Mr. A. C. Smith.

The ceremony was performed by Rector E. B. Meredith, and read out of the prayer book of the bride's grandmother, Messrs. C. B. and H. S. Newbill acted as ushers. The wedding march, from Lohengrin, was rendered by Mrs. Lula Gaines, and "Oh, Promise Me" was played during the ceremony.

The bride was attired in white organdy, trimmed in medallions of lace and liberty silk ribbon and made over white silk. She wore a picture hat of white chiffon and carried red rambler roses. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were attired in white organdy. They wore white picture hats and carried carnations.

The church was artistically decorated with ivy and daisies. The bridal party stood under an arch, from which was suspended the marriage bell.

After the ceremony a reception was given at "Ashdale," the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. W. G. Newbill.

Among the guests from a distance were J. R. Fleet and daughters, Misses Ruby and Dinna, Misses Spindle, of Culpeper; Miss Newbill, of Norfolk; Miss Grace Woods, of Baltimore; Mrs. Lula R. Gaines and daughter, of Irvington.

WASHINGTON—Captain Samuel C. Lemly, Judge Advocate General of the navy, to-day left Washington for his home at Salem, N. C., where his sister is lying critically ill. Upon his application, Captain Lemly yesterday was examined by the Naval Retiring Board, but he has not yet reported, but it is known to have condemned the officer as unfit for active service on account of his impaired health.

RAILROAD TIME TO BE SHORTENED

To-Day a New Schedule Will Go Into Effect on Many Big Lines.

This Sunday will mark a new epoch in the railroad history of the United States, when a new schedule goes into effect on many of the larger railroad systems, providing for trains between the large cities at a rate of speed hitherto not considered practicable.

One of the most striking examples is the Chicago and North Western, which is to be run on a faster train between Cincinnati and Lake Chautauqua, but it will not make the remarkable time of the trains above described.

The Erie Railroad will next Sunday put on a faster train between Cincinnati and Lake Chautauqua, but it will not make the remarkable time of the trains above described.

West of St. Louis the big Pacific and other railroads are arranging schedules that will break all previous records for speed.

The Southern railroads are not at present making any moves in this direction.

A CASE OF JEALOUSY. An Aged Negro Charged With Attempted Murder.

Murder in its most atrocious form was attempted early yesterday morning at No. 206 North Sixth Street, the victim being William Collins, a negro fifty years old. William Dixon, about seventy years old, was arraigned in Police Court yesterday charged with the crime. He denied all knowledge of the affair.

According to the charge, Dixon attempted to chop Collins' head off with an axe while Collins was asleep. Collins is now in the almshouse at the point of death.

According to the statements of Dixon, made to reporters yesterday, he and Collins had a fight on last Tuesday, and Collins hit him on the head with some blunt weapon. This matter, the prisoner says, was not regarded seriously, however, and he and Collins continued to occupy the same room at the number given. In the same house lives Frances Wayne, the woman who furnished the motive.

The police say that yesterday between 4 and 5 o'clock Dixon got up from the couch where he has been accustomed to sleep, took an axe belonging to Collins, who was sound asleep, and attempted to kill him. He cut the face open with one gash three inches long, with another he cut off the jaw-bone, with a third he laid the eye open and the fourth struck Collins on top of the head. This blow fractured his skull.

Against this Dixon says he knows nothing of the matter. He says he got up about four o'clock, lighted a fire and left the room with Collins still asleep. At that time Collins was all right. He further says that he knew nothing of the crime until he was arrested by Policeman Kuhn an hour or so later. Meanwhile Dr. Syde, of the ambulance, had been called, dressed the wound hurriedly and removed Collins to the hospital.

When M. E. Ingalls learned that Chicago was to have this fast service, he declared that Cincinnati should be treated just as well by the railroads. Consequently he arranged to cut four hours off the schedule between Cincinnati and New York. The flier which will leave Cincinnati over the Big Four at 6:30 P. M. next Sunday, reaching New York at 9:30 A. M. next day, is the result.

A cut was made by the Pennsylvania, which will put on a flier, leaving Cincinnati at 2:45 P. M. Sunday, and arriving at New York at 9 A. M. Monday, covering the entire 357 miles in six hours and fifteen minutes.

The fast train between Buffalo and St. Louis is put on because of the coming World's Fair at St. Louis, and will be called the Exposition Flier, though it will continue to run after the world's Fair ends.

The Erie Railroad will next Sunday put on a faster train between Cincinnati and Lake Chautauqua, but it will not make the remarkable time of the trains above described.
